Entered as Second-Class Matter Friday, February 19th, 1904 at the Postoffice at Barbourville, Knox County, Ky., under Act of Congress of March 3rd, 1879.
MOTTO—LIVE FOR OUR FRIENDS—DO THE GREATEST AMOUNT OF GOOD WE CAN TO THE LARGEST NUMBER OF PEOPLE.

Terms: $1. Per Year In Advance.

BARBOURVILLE, KENTUCKY, FRIDAY, JUNE 3, 1904.

First Year. Vol. 1. No. 16.

A PARK

With Large Auditorium One of the Needs of Our City of the Present Time.

In our ramblings about our town since we located here we have seen some very lovely spots that could be turned into a park, and by so doing, would add much to the comfort and advancement of our town. We have discussed the subject with some of our most enterprising citizens and they all agree with us that it would be a good thing.

Now the plan, as it has suggested itself to our mind, is this:

Select a nice lot of some ten or twelve acres of land in or near the town (timbered would be preferable) and enclose it with a good, strong fence, and erect a large tabernacle or auditorium on it that would seat 800 to 1,000 people. The entire building to be constructed of rough lumber, just as it comes from the saw. There would be no need of a floor in the building, and it could be erected at a cost of less than $2,000 and seated with comfortable home-made seats.

Now with this building erected, we would have an ideal place for all kinds of public gatherings, speakings, etc., where the entire population of our town and surrounding country could be accommodated and hear what was to be said on such occasions. The various lodges of our town when they desired to give a parade and invite prominent speakers in our midst would have some place for them to speak to the people, camp meetings and religious services, Sunday-school picnics, Fourth of July celebrations and political gatherings of every description, would by this plan have a suitable place to assemble. We would then be enabled to have our district conventions meet here and be able to accommodate all who might desire to attend.

These are only a few of the many needs that suggests themselves to our mind, as we think of our town and realize that in all the town there is not a place of sufficient capacity to accommodate more than two hundred people in a public gathering.

We would suggest that a stock company be organized and a sufficient amount of money gathered together to purchase a site and erect a building, of proportions sufficient to meet all requirements and open up to the people of Barbourville a public auditorium.

The proceeds for which it could be rented for various purposes would soon pay back to the stockholders in it all the money invested, and it would prove a splendid addition to our town.

Let some enterprising man with a little public spirit take the matter up and start a stock subscription and see how readily the money can be raised. Don't wait for some one else to take the matter up, but do it your self. The man who leads in this public enterprise will erect a perpetual monument for himself, one that will stand after he has passed away. Now who will give it a start; there are plenty of men with means who will take stock if you will only approach them.

BOARDING.

All persons wishing accommodations at The World's Fair, St. Louis, can make arrangements for same by addressing Mrs. G. W. BAILEY, 3229, Pine St. Rates: $1.50 to $2.00 per day. Special rates to Parties.

COMING

The Big Medicine Company.

Mr. W. D. Moore, Manager of the Ku-Ver-O Medicine Company, has arranged for his company of refined Entertainers and Medicine demonstrators to visit Barbourville all next week.

The entertaining department is under the management of Mr. George H. Sanders, who has been engaged the past winter with the Southern Lyceum Bureau all through Alabama and Tennessee. The Ku-Ver-O Medicine Company came very highly recommended from Williamsburg, Ky., where they recently spent three weeks, during which time they played to large audiences, and their medicine produced some marvelous cures.

Mr. Moore will, during the week, spend a short time each evening lecturing upon disease and demonstrating the remarkable three-minute cures for Deafness, Paralysis, Rheumatic Pain, Headache, etc., for which Ku-Ver-O Oil has been celebrated. Their entertainment is guaranteed to be of the best, and this company caters to the best classes in their campaign of Education and Entertainment.

Rev. John B. Hudson.

We clip the following from the Galveston (Tex.) Tribune:

"Rev. John Black Hudson, who is now filling the pulpit of the Central Presbyterian church as its permanent pastor, is the youngest minister in the synod of Texas. He was born in Kentucky some 24 years ago. At the time of his call to the pastorate of Central church he was a student in the Austin Theological seminary and the call came to him in the nature of the unexpected. Mr. Hudson is a graduate of Union college, took a post graduate course in Central college, Kentucky, also in Danville (Ky.) Theological seminary, Louisville and Austin seminaries. Mr. Hudson, however, does not lack in experience, having been pastor to Pine Street Presbyterian church, San Antonio, afterwards spending some time as pastor of the church at La Vernia, Texas. Mr. Hudson has two brothers in the ministry, both in the Presbyterian church. The call to Central church came while Mr. Hudson was preaching to the congregation as a supply, and inducing the acceptance of the call, the congregation feels that it has secured a man who will be in truth a leader in the work it is now doing. As a preacher, Mr. Hudson has many natural qualifications to which his acquirements in the various seminaries in which he has studied, have added material force and strength; he is an able speaker, pleteous in ideas and strong in his presentation of them.

The Round Dozen Club.

The Round Dozen Club were entertained Thursday evening by Miss Jessie Dickinson. Those present were: Misses Mayo Tinley, Gertrude Black, George Black, Cora Sevier, Kate England. Messrs. T. D. Tinley, P. D. Black, V. V. Anderson, E. Faulkner, W. Mc. Dishman. The young ladies were robed in Japanese Kimonos.

Birthday Party.

Robert Bowman celebrated his birthday by having quite a number of the young people of the town Thursday afternoon at his parents' home, on east Main street.

FRIGHTFUL

TRAGEDY.

Two Men Killed at Henry Mills' Store Last Saturday Afternoon.

A most shocking tragedy occurred last Saturday afternoon at Henry Mills' Store, four miles from Flat Lick, in this county, when John and Clark Mills were both killed.

Pal Carnes and Jim Gray are the ones alleged to have done the killing, but we learn that Carnes says he did the killing himself.

It seems from the best that we could learn that there had been trouble before between the parties, and it is alleged that the Mills' had sent word to Carnes and Gray that if they were at Mills' store when they arrived on Saturday they would kill both of them. It seems that they never received the message until they arrived at the store on Saturday afternoon, and soon after the Mills boys rode up then the trouble started, but who fired the first shot we have not been able to learn, but when the smoke of battle had cleared away both John and Clark Mills were killed, and neither of the others were hurt. Carnes and Gray surrendered themselves to the officers and were brought to town Monday, and as the Commonwealth was not ready for trial the date for the examining trial was set for Thursday. Carnes and Gray were both sent to jail in default of bail, and also Jeff Leath, the officer who brought them to town and delivered them over to the court, was locked up with them.

State News.

An unknown man, a woman and two young girls were burned to death in a cabin in Letcher county.

Baxter Ashby, a widely known horseman, was kicked out of his buggy at Madisonville and killed.

Dr. Charles Mann, a prominent physician of Nicholasville, is dead.

Miss Bettie Gaines, 18, youngest daughter of John S. Gaines, one of Georgetown's retired merchants, and Mr. Carrick Ware, 20, son of George Ware, of Scott county, stole away to Lexington and were married on June 1, after which they left for St. Louis to spend their honeymoon.

In a quarrel about a dog near Rocky Hill, Barren county, Garner Read, 20, shot and probably fatally wounded Allen James. James assaulted Read with a club, and Read ran into his house and secured a shotgun with which he shot James four times in the face, arms and breast.

Commissioner's Sale.

By virtue of a judgment of the Knox Circuit Court rendered in the case of C. N. Sampson vs. Tollers Oil Co., which judgment was rendered at the last April term of said court, the undersigned Special Commissioner will the 27th day of June, 1904, that being the regular County Court day for Knox county, sell at public outcry at the Court-house door in Barbourville, Kentucky, the following described real property, situated in Knox county, Ky., on the waters of Smoky Creek and Big Richland Creek and near the city of Barbourville, a certain tract or parcel of land known as the Anderson lands, or Bald Hill, and bounded on the north by lands of J. R. Bailey and M. S. Costello; on the east by the lands of D. McDonald; and on the south by the lands of T. J. Wyatt and Elizabeth Harkleroad, and on the west by the lands of Elizabeth Harkleroad and the county road leading from Barbourville to London, and containing about one hundred and three acres. The same or so much thereof as is necessary is to be sold as the property of the defendant Tollers' Oil Co., to satisfy a judgment of the plaintiff for the sum of Four Hundred Dollars with interest and costs.

The purchaser will be required to give bond for the purchase money, having the force and effect of a judgment, and also of 1 and 2 o'clock p. m., at the front door of the Court House, in the city of Barbourville, Knox county, Ky., sell at public sale, to the highest bidder, on a credit of six months, the following described property: A tract of land lying on the waters of Little Richland Creek, in Knox county, Ky. Beginning on a beech standing by the Ben Hughes fence; thence coming to the creek at the mouth of a ditch; thence a straight line on the John Wages line to Jim Payne's line on the hill; thence with the Jim Payne line to Harman Payne and Wm. Newman's line; thence with their line to Sam Newman's thence with his line to a chestnut; corner of Jo Payne one hundred survey; thence a west course to a north corner of Jo Payne survey; thence with the back line of Jo Payne survey, containing about 151 acres, together with the pumping plants and fixtures, and the casing and fixtures in the oil wells on the said land, all of which will be sold together, including three tanks.

PUBLIC NOTICE.

The undersigned, W. R. Black, assignee of the Barbourville and Cumberland Valley Gas and Oil Co., will, on the 30th day of June, 1904, between the hours of 1 and 2 o'clock p. m., at the front door of the Court House, in the city of Barbourville, Knox county, Ky., sell at public sale, to the highest bidder, on a credit of six months, the following described property: A tract of land lying on the waters of Little Richland Creek, in Knox county, Ky. Beginning on a beech standing by the Ben Hughes fence; thence coming to the creek at the mouth of a ditch; thence a straight line on the John Wages line to Jim Payne's line on the hill; thence with the Jim Payne line to Harman Payne and Wm. Newman's line; thence with their line to Sam Newman's thence with his line to a chestnut; corner of Jo Payne one hundred survey; thence a west course to a north corner of Jo Payne survey; thence with the back line of Jo Payne survey, containing about 151 acres, together with the pumping plants and fixtures, and the casing and fixtures in the oil wells on the said land, all of which will be sold together, including three tanks.

The said land has on it two pumping plants and fixtures, also several oil wells, and the fixtures thereto, which are now being operated. Also he will sell one drilling machine and fixtures on the said terms. Also he will sell on the said terms one lease on about 500 acres of land lying on Stinking creek in said county, and being the lease executed by Grant Hammon to one J. C. Grose, close, and by him assigned to the said company. That he will sell the said drilling machine and fixtures and the said lease separate or together. The purchaser of the said property will be required to execute an approved bond for the said bid for the said land, with a lien retained on the said land and fixtures to secure the payment of the same. The sale of all the said property, except the lease on Stinking creek, will be made subject to the right of J. K. Mitchell to use and operate the same till the 2nd day of October, 1904, and his right to 65 per cent. of the proceeds of the oil from the said wells till October 2, 1904. This 26th day of May, 1904.

THE PRIZE CONTEST CLOSED

Last Wednesday, June 1st, at Noon and the Prizes Awarded to the Winners.

Last Wednesday at noon, the hour set for awarding the prizes offered in our contest, brought quite a number of the citizens of our town to this office to learn the result.

The candidates had been active during the past week, and most of them showed considerable gains. The strongest gain was that of Miss Sudie Smith, who came in on the "home stretch" and captured the third prize.

The vote when tabulated at noon Wednesday stood as follows:

Mrs. T. B. Clark, Georgetown,	1,080
Thomas E. Smith, Barbourville,	1,000
Miss Sudie Smith, Flat Lick,	480
Mrs. Lewis Lane, Barbourville,	380
Miss Nannie Westerfield, Artemus,	160
Miss Minnie Coone, Flat Lick,	100

The three first who received the highest number of votes were awarded the prizes, Mrs. Clark getting the diamond ring.

Mr. Smith, who was a close second, took the gold watch, and Miss Sudie Smith gets the beautiful brooch set with real pearls.

The contest throughout was conducted fairly, and the prizes awarded to those who had labored the hardest, and it afforded us extreme pleasure to give them to the winners.

We hope each one will accept our sincere thanks for the work they have done, and when we inaugurate another contest, that they may all win something.

The article touching upon the increase of taxes written two weeks ago by Mr. F. D. Sampson, seems to have struck the key note, as responses have been heard on all sides. This is a question of vital importance to Democrats and Republicans alike, and the letter last week by Mr. John Bowman only shows how the Democrats feel.

We print a letter this week from over the river shows that the citizens on that side are also stirred up. There should be (and doubtless will be) a strong delegation from this county at Frankfort on June 17 to petition the State Board to relieve us of this unprecedented and unheard of raise in the taxes, and we believe that the raise can be taken off and thus save the taxpayers thousands of dollars of unjust taxation.

We would suggest that meetings be held throughout the county and delegates selected to represent the citizens before the State Board at its meeting on June 17.

In the death of Matthew Stanley Quay, of Pennsylvania, the Republican party has lost another great political leader, and the people of his native State will especially feel the great loss that his death has caused.

Col. Breckinridge, in the Morning Herald, in speaking of his death, said:

"We know of no leader in America who had such despotism and complete control of his State organization as did Senator Quay. He was a simple, reserved, ostentatious, rather retiring gentleman in his ordinary intercourse with his associates; a gentleman by birth, by education, and in the manner of his life he bore himself as such always in his public and private intercourse. He was a very pleasant public man with whom to transact public business and was always courteous, considerate and

There will be an ice cream supper given to-night at the Baptist Institute to which the public is cordially invited.

In to-day's issue appears the official announcement of Mr. Nathaniel Parker, of Black's precinct, as a candidate for the office of Jailer of Knox county. Mr. Parker is forty-six years old, and while he has lived all his life in this county, except three years spent in Laurel, he has never filled but one office, that of Constable, and he has been content to help his friends into office.

He now comes before the Republicans of this county asking t. dir support, and if elected to the office he is seeking, would no doubt make a splendid official.

The closing exercises of Union College were begun last Friday night, and the chapel was crowded to see the little folks in their interesting entertainment.

On Saturday night the audience was highly entertained with a splendid musical.

Sunday morning the baccalaureate sermon was preached by President Faulkner in the College Chapel to a large and appreciative audience.

On Monday evening the society event of the week was staged when Enoch Arden was played by the senior class to a full house.

Tuesday evening was commencement night and the program as published last week, was carried out in full.

Owing to the inclemency of the weather there was not such a large audience present, but all were well pleased with the manner in which they were entertained.

Miss Roxie Wilson, in her oration on the "American Girl," was considered very fine by all who heard her.

The ice business, which has heretofore been run by the Costello Drug Co., changed hands Wednesday, and the same is now in the hands of M. Cannon and Son, who say they will reduce the price from one cent a pound to three-quarters of a cent. We hope them success.

Teachers' Examination.

The first examination of teachers in this county was held last week. There were 56 applications for certificates; 6 received first-class, 14 received second class, 8 received third class, and 27 failed to pass on the first examination and will have to try again.

The next examination will be held on the 17th and 18th of June, when those who failed and who desire, can try again.

Troubles Soon Forgotten.

John Helton, aged about 45 years, of Black's precinct, lost his wife by death on Wednesday, May 11, and Mr. Nathan Parker was called upon to make the coffin in which she was buried.

Just two weeks later on, Wednesday, May 25, Mr. Parker was again called upon to write a certificate for a marriage license, as Mr. Helton had found his two weeks of single life rather lonesome had decided to launch again upon the matrimonial sea.

Mrs. Helton No. 2, was Miss Marguerette, the sixteen-year-old daughter of James Helton, a distant relative of the groom.

Why Not Try The Trolley?

On your next trip between Lexington and Paris or Georgetown? Low rates, fast time and cars every hour.

PERSONALS.

Mrs. O. C. McClung and daughter, of Burnside, are visiting Mrs. McClung's mother, Mrs. Carrie Dickinson, of this place.

Dr. E. B. Dishman was practicing his profession in Coalport the earlier part of the week.

James Pursifill, of Flat Lick, was in town Monday doing business with the County Judge.

Quite a number of people from this place were among Rev. Myers' congregation Sunday at Artemus.

Alex Sommer, a prominent stave dealer, returned home last Friday from an extensive business trip in the vicinity of Chattanooga, Tenn.

R. D. Collins, of Georgetown, representing a New York drug company, was in town last Monday and paid this office a pleasant call. He has been on the road for the past two months and has not been home since he started out the latter part of March. He will reach Georgetown by Saturday.

Nelson Gray, of Flat Lick, was a pleasant caller at this office last Monday.

Mrs. James D. Black and daughter, Miss Gertrude, were in Danville this week, attending commencement exercises of Caldwell College.

Miss George C. Black, of this place, who has been in Danville, Ky., attending Caldwell College, returned home Thursday afternoon.

S. B. Dishman returned home Thursday from Catlettsburg, where he has been several days on business.

John L. Dozier is on the sick list this week, suffering with an attack of rheumatism.

Dr. Baker and family have given up the Hotel Knox and moved to Jellico, Tenn., where they will reside for the future.

R. W. Cole has been on this week on the road as traveling salesman in the place of N. W. Plank, who is keeping store in this place.

Miss Sudie Smith, of Flat Lick, is the guest this week of her sister, Mrs. W. H. McDonald. She paid this office a pleasant call Wednesday afternoon and was presented with the handsome brooch which had been awarded her in the prize contest.

Miss Ethel Fellows and brother Ray, left Wednesday night for their home in Somerset.

Miss Weaver, a Union College teacher, left for her home Wednesday night.

H. A. Moore, who for the past year has been in the Kansas oil fields, returned home the earlier part of the week.

Crude Thoughts as they Fall from the Editorial Pen. Pleasant Evening Reveries.

THE HOME CIRCLE COLUMN.

A Column Dedicated to Tired Mothers as they Join the Home Circle at Evening Tide.

A mother's heart, like primrose, opens most beautifully in the evening of life.

MANY children develop into gloomy, morbid, bitter men and women for lack of a happy childhood.

If instead of a gem or even a flower, we would cast the gift of a happy thought into the heart of a friend, that would be giving as the angels give.

WHEN you find a home where all have learned the important lesson of helping one another, there you will find the perfection of true home happiness.

WHEN rolling years shall cease to move, when the days of all men have been numbered, and when the earth shall have wandered away through space and been lost, underlying love will still live on as the undying as the throne of God.

A cheerful atmosphere is important to happy home life. It is hard for children to be good when they are exposed to an incessant hail-storm of fault-finding from their parents. It is very difficult for a wife to maintain a calm and charmingly sweet demeanor when her husband is critical or sullen and takes all her tender efforts with indifferent appreciation.

WE would say keep all knowledge of evil possible out of a child's life. Ignorance of this is the charm of childhood and youth, and its joyfulness. Show them the right side of all that comes to their knowledge. Because evil knowledge will come sooner or later is no reason for hastening it. Do not blast the bud for fear the blossom will be marred, or mar the blossom for fear the fruit will be worm eaten. Frost cannot do as much harm after the fruit has set as while the buds and blossoms are growing. Be what you wish your children to be and keep them unconscious, innocent and unsuspicious.

THE road along which the man of business travels in pursuit of competence or wealth is not a Macadamized one, nor does it ordinarily lead through pleasant scenes and by well-springs of delight. On the contrary it is a rough path, beset with "wait-a-bit" thorns and full of pit-falls, which can only be avoided by the watchful care of circumspection. After every day's journey over this worse than rough turnpike roads, the wayfarer needs something more than rest; he requires solace and he deserves it. He is weary of the dull prose of life and a thirst for the poetry. Happy is the man who can find that solace and that poetry at home. Warm greetings from loving hearts, fond glances from bright eyes, the welcome shouts of children, the many thousand little arrangements for our comfort and enjoyment that silently tell of thoughtful and expectant love, the gentle ministrations that disencumber us into an old and easy seat before we are aware of it; these and like tokens of affection and sympathy constitute the poetry which reconcile us to the prose of life. Think of this, ye wives and daughters of business men! Think of the toils, the anxieties, the worries and wear that fathers undergo to secure for you comfortable homes, and compensate them for their trials by making them happy by their firesides.

THE home is what mother makes it, good, bad or indifferent. Government may be corrupt and man degenerate without loss of hope, but when the standard of the home is lowered it is time to think of hopelessness and the end of the sinful world. The home is the bulwark of civilization, and it is should be preserved the best possible means of resistance of any siege that may be set up. Great changes have come in the finish of the nineteenth century, which have developed and broadened woman's relations; her outlook is upon different scenes and possibilities, yet through them all runs the same old woof of wifehood and motherhood, earth's most sacred duties. The question now is not, "Shall woman's field expand?" It has already expanded. The paramount issue is the maintenance of the home. The development of industrial monopolies, where the dollar is almighty, threatens to undermine the home. There is no more menacing fact than this. Evidence exists on every hand that the preservation of the family circle is the problem of the age of commercialism. The best way to become good is to be born good, and the next essentials are the socialism of the home, and the training of the mother, the child's best friend.

In the marriage vows the little band of gold placed on the bride's finger by the groom is the pledge that the husband has endowed the wife with all his worldly goods; that she has an equal interest in them. Yet with many who say, "With all my worldly goods I thee endow," the words mean nothing, and every dollar spent by the wife in personal adornments or conveniences about the house is grudgingly given, and we dare say if some wives of this community spent as much for sweetmeats and bon bons and ice cream soda as their husbands do for smoke each year, there would go up a howl you could hear for miles from the husbands with extravagant wives; and if the wives and daughters of this community spent as much on chewing gum as the husbands and brothers do for chewing tobacco every year, the bridge would be full of men jumping into the river because their wives spent so much money foolishly. Now we believe when a man asks a young woman to become his wife, and the relationship is consummated in marriage, that the wife has an equal share in the finances of that home. Many wives slave and work for a lifetime. When you find one extravagant, you will find ten careful and economical.

HOW often we hear a young man say, "We haven't been given a chance in life to make anything of ourselves."

We would point that young man to Wm. E. Corey, who last year was elected President of the United States Steel Corporation at a salary almost equal to that of the President of the United States.

You say he had a "pull." He did. Sixteen years ago Corey was pushing a wheelbarrow in the back yards of one of Carnegie's mills at Braddock. This was his "pull." He walked a little faster and put on bigger loads than the men at his elbow and he was soon made foreman over them. In other words he was not afraid to give his employer two dollars worth of work for one dollar, a fear that has taken possession of too many young men in this community. When he became foreman it was noticed that men under him did more work than formerly. He did not swear at his men. They never grumbled at his boss. They respected him and it was a pleasure to work for him. Carnegie began promoting Corey and Corey worked hard. He had only a fair common school education. He studied at night. He took a course in a correspondent school. He became an expert chemist. He was soon authority on armor plate. He knew more about plate than any one in the mills. He was soon made superintendent of that department. He increased the output. That's all. But remember that this was all the result of wheeling more iron ore than the man at his elbow in a back yard at Braddock. Too many of our young men see how small a load they can wheel. To put in the hours and draw their pay is the height of their ambition, and then because they do not prosper like young Corey they imagine they have not been given a fair chance in life.
